Why to have precious metals in our family fortune?

- Allocation of savings and property - the fact that it is not smart to put all eggs in one basket also applies to building up family wealth and reserves. However, households keep the majority of their wealth only in various financial products. Immovable assets and property with lasting value, which include precious metals, should be kept in mind. They greatly complete and balance financial assets while stabilizing all family reserves.

- Protection against inflation - all currencies and savings are subject to inflation, they lose their value. Protection against inflation is simple. It is necessary to achieve higher earnings than inflation or to own assets which are not subject to inflation. Precious metals are inflation-resilient and they are a traditional store of value, proven by the centuries-long history.
- Insurance - today's money is not covered by anything. Its value is influenced by many decisions of states, central banks and international situation. It can become absolutely worthless. Precious metals act as a guarantee against decreasing the value. You will appreciate them over the period of monetary, political, economic and market uncertainties and crises.
- World value - precious metals are accepted and traded all around the world. Thanks to their universality, you can exchange them for any world currency. They are transferable, lasting and well-storable. They can accompany your family for centuries.
- Tax deductibility - Investment gold is exempt from VAT. Earnings from investment precious metals are not subject to taxation, they are not subject to income tax.

What does SAVE - intelligent investment plan offer?

- Available saving in precious metals - SAVE enables purchasing of investment ingots and coins in small amounts. The regular payment amount depends on you. The maximum saving amount is not limited. Each accepted payment is immediately fixed in the investment precious metal.
- Low prices of investment metals per gram - with the growing size of investment ingots and coins, the price of one gram of precious metal decreases. SAVE enables saving in bigger ingots and coins while saving 16% to 49% of purchase price during long-term saving.
- Price averaging - price of investment precious metals is determined by trading on the stock exchange. You can also optimize their price by regular purchases, thanks to the effect of price averaging. In fact, you buy less gold or silver for the same payment at higher prices, at lower prices, you will get more. SAVE offers higher effectiveness than a classical single purchase.
- Top quality - SAVE offers only top quality. SAVE range of products is formed by prestigious investment ingots and coins with motif Lady Fortuna from the Swiss refinery PAMP. This refinery controls more than a half of world's market with golden ingots with the weight lower than 50 grams, which increases the liquidity of ingots. Coins with the motif of a Canadian Maple Leaf are the purest regularly minted coins (fineness 999.9/1,000). Their coinage was started in 1979. The Royal Canadian Mint is famous not only for its superior quality in terms of purity of gold and silver but also for its unique quality of coinage with rendering of the tiniest details. The Perth Mint started to issue a series of silver coins with the motif of favourite koala bear (Silver Koala) in 2007. The silver coin is one of the most typical collector coins with a limited coinage amount and with fineness 999/1,000.
- A modern product with a bonus - SAVE gives you freedom in your saving style. You will determine the type of investment ingot or coin, you will specify the amount of regular payment and its frequency and total number of pieces of the goods which you will buy. During your saving, you can change your contract free of charge, you can make extra deposits or you can interrupt your payments. You will receive information on the course of your saving free of charge.
